FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

COMFORT SYSTEMS USA ANNOUNCES DEPARTURES AND MANAGEMENT CHANGES

Houston, TX – March 21, 2005 – Comfort Systems USA, Inc. (NYSE: FIX), a leading provider of commercial, industrial and institutional heating, ventilation and air conditioning (“HVAC”) services, today announced that J. Gordon Beittenmiller is resigning his roles as Executive Vice President, Chief Financial Officer, and Director to accept a senior position in another sector of the industry. Beittenmiller will depart Comfort Systems USA on April 15, 2005. William George, the Company’s General Counsel, will take the Chief Financial Officer role. Julie S. Shaeff, the Company’s Controller, will assume the position of Chief Accounting Officer. Trent T. McKenna, the Company’s Associate General Counsel, will become the General Counsel.

Bill Murdy, Comfort Systems USA’s Chairman and CEO, said, “Gordie Beittenmiller has been with Comfort Systems USA since its founding eight years ago, and has helped guide the Company through all of the challenges we have faced and successes we have enjoyed. We thank him for his outstanding contributions, and wish him well as he takes on a leadership role with a company in a different sector of our industry.

“Bill George has also been a part of Comfort Systems USA from our beginning. He knows the Company and our industry thoroughly, and enjoys great respect throughout our organization. His appointment, complemented by new responsibilities for Julie Shaeff and Trent McKenna, demonstrates the depth and strength of our management team. With Bill in the CFO role, we continue to be strongly positioned for ongoing success.”

The Company also announced that Vincent J. Costantini will not stand for re-election to the Company’s Board of Directors, due to the increased demands of his other business interests. Murdy continued, “Vince Costantini has brought excellent counsel and sound judgment to our Board of Directors throughout his four-year tenure. We greatly appreciate his service to the Company and hope that his endeavors continue to prosper.”

Murdy concluded, “We have a great team at Comfort Systems USA with significant experience both in the industry and with our Company. We are starting this year with a record backlog and strong balance sheet amid improving industry conditions. While we have previously noted that we expect a down first quarter as compared to last year’s solid first quarter due to the effects of extended inclement weather in California and uneven customer schedules at a large operation with significant backlog, we also continue to expect that our results for 2005 as a whole will reflect another year of growth. Overall, Comfort Systems USA has never been in better shape to continue building value for all its stakeholders.”
